TOP TIPS

Find a quiet space with no distractions

Your preschooler may walk off and play, they are still listening, don't be put off to continue reading

Make sound effects and animal noises for extra giggles

To extend your preschoolers vocabulary, make statements about what you see "The horse is galloping in the field"

Let your preschooler take the lead, helping their speech to develop and giving them space to talk

Letting your preschooler explore the book how they want helps them understand books, encourage them using the book in different ways

OTHER RECOMMENDATIONS

Visit your local library and borrow some different books.

You can always talk about the book:

- What did/didn't they like?
- What happened in the book?
- Who was their favourite character? Why?
- Link the story to their own experiences.

It's OK to read the same book again and again and again!

Singing to your pre schooler is still valuable bonding time!

Most importantly,
have fun!
