Your Evening Visit Planner: Find the Right Time for Your Family

A simple worksheet to help you discover what an earlier visit could look like

About This Planner:

This worksheet helps you think through what an earlier evening visit might look like for your family.

There are no right or wrong answers, just honest reflection.

Section 1: Understanding Your Current Routine

What time does your loved one usually start to get tired in the evening?

6pm or earlier 7pm 8pm 9pm 10pm or later
 Not sure it - varies

What time do they currently go to bed?

How long does personal care (washing, changing etc.) currently take?

15-30 minutes 30-45 minutes 45 minutes to an hour Over an hour
 It varies-sometimes a battle

How do you feel by the time they're in bed?

Tired but ok Exhausted Frustrated Relieved it's over
 All of the above

Section 2: What Would Help You?

What would make your evenings easier?

Having help with personal care Having time to yourself Reducing stress or battles at bedtime Getting to bed earlier yourself
 Seeing your loved one sleep better All of the above

If you could change one thing about your evening routine, what would it be?

What time would you ideally like to have your evening back to yourself?

6pm 7pm 8pm 9pm Doesn't matter - just earlier than now

Section 3: What Matters to Your Loved One?

Is there a routine or habit that's really important to them? (e.g., watching the news, a particular TV show, going to bed at a certain time)

Could that routine happen earlier, or in a different way? (e.g., watching the news in the bedroom, or on catch-up)

What would make them feel safe and comfortable during a change?

- Reassurance from you
- Keeping part of the old routine
- Gradual introduction
- A familiar carer
- Something else:

Section 4: What an Earlier Visit Could Look Like

Based on what you've written above, what time might work best for an earlier visit?

- 5pm
- 6pm
- 7pm
- 8pm

What would you want to include in that visit?

- Help with washing/showering
- Help with changing clothes
- Help with medication
- A meal or snack
- Getting settled comfortably
- All of the above

After the visit, what would you like to happen?

- Your loved one relaxes and watches TV
- They have quiet time
- They drift off naturally
- You have time to yourself
- All of the above

Section 5: Your Next Step

How confident do you feel about trying an earlier visit?

Very confident Fairley confident Not sure Worried about how they'll react

What's one question you'd like to ask before you decide?

You're not alone in this.
