Your privacy matters

Thank you for visiting my website.

I understand that when you contact me, you are placing your trust in me. I am committed to treating your personal information with care, keeping it secure, and only using it for the purposes explained in this Privacy Policy.

This Privacy Policy applies to everyone who contacts me through the website contact form. This website uses cookies and similar technologies provided by trusted third-party services to ensure it functions correctly and to help improve your experience. You can learn more about the cookies used on this website by reading the Cookie Declaration linked in the footer.

Information I collect

If you contact me through my website, I may collect:

- your name
- your email address
- your telephone number (if you choose to provide it)
- any information you include in your message.

How I use your information

I use your information to:

- respond to your enquiry
- answer your questions
- arrange an introductory call or appointment if requested
- communicate with you about the services you have enquired about.

I will never share your personal information with third parties for marketing purposes.

How long I keep your information

If your enquiry does not lead to you becoming a client, I will delete your personal information once our correspondence has concluded.

If you choose to become a client, your information will be managed in accordance with my Client Privacy Notice, which you will receive before we begin working together.

How I protect your information

I take reasonable steps to protect your personal information from unauthorised access, loss or misuse.

While no method of electronic communication can be guaranteed to be completely secure, I take appropriate measures to safeguard the information you share with me.

Your rights

You have the right to request access to the personal information I hold about you, ask for any inaccuracies to be corrected, or request that your information be deleted where appropriate.

Changes to this policy

This Privacy Policy may be updated from time to time. The latest version will always be available on this website.
