

Dear Parent/Carer,

It was lovely this week to see so many Braes families and young people working with staff and senior pupils at Monday's Broad, General Education Family Learning event. We have a number of other events to which parents/carers are invited later this term. On Tuesday 6th December our Art and Design Exhibition takes place in the senior social space between 7pm and 8pm. Entry is free and parents/carers are welcome to visit to view the artwork of our pupils across all year groups. The following evening, Wednesday 7th December sees our Christmas Concert take place, starting at 7pm. Further information about tickets will be issued shortly.

Parents/carers will no doubt be aware of the announcement by EIS of a nationwide strike of members scheduled for Thursday 24th November. As and when we have further information in relation to this situation we will of course communicate with parents/carers and pupils.

Please also remember that Friday 25th November is an in-service day. The school is closed to pupils on that day.

I hope all Braes families are doing well just now.

Yours sincerely,

Iain Livingstone
